Fire Dept. Auxiliary to give annual fashion fete

The Fifth Annual Cocktail Capers fashion show, sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department, will be held at the Valley Lodge on Saturday, September 11.

Husbands as well as wives look forward to this event which heralds the beginning of the Valley fall social season. Libations provided by the Carmel Valley Lions Club, will be served poolside as guests enjoy the fashion parade. Delicious hors d'oeuvres prepared by Auxiliary members will also be served.

Saturday movies to start again

The Saturday afternoon movies at the Community Center will begin this week with showings at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Cost of admission will be 35¢ and all shows will be adult supervised. Refreshments will be on sale with all proceeds donated to the swimming pool fund.

All the films chosen have been recommended by Parents' Magazine as suitable for the entire family to see, and they have been rated A-1 (morally UNobjectionable for all ages) by the National Legion of Decency. Most of the films have won awards for superiority. And all are in color except for two feature comedies and the comedy shorts. All cartoons are recent color releases.

Kit Parker, who orders and screens the movies, stated that copyright laws forbid advertising in newspapers but posters announcing the coming attractions will be displayed at the post office, Tularcitos School, Village market and at the Community Center.

Supervisors to weigh planlines

A public hearing on the four-lane plan lines for the lower Carmel Valley Road is scheduled to come before the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday, September 14 at 11 a.m.

The Planning Commission recently upheld the existing planlines over the recommendations of the supervisors.

iliary president, is general show chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Woods, ticket chairman; Mrs. Donald Corona, decorations; Mrs. George Palmer, refreshments; and Mrs. Mark Hatton, publicity.

Ellen Waters, who is furnishing the fashions will serve as commentator-coordinator with Mrs. William Stowers acting as wardrobe mistress. Models include: Mmes. William Ricker, David Eyres, Mark Fields, Donald Corona, Jack Rushmer, William Conlan, William Stowers, Boyd Danielson, Les Jewett, Richard McKenzie, Ted Neff, Marilyn Hubbs and Miss Mary Pattie.

An additional highlight of the evening will be vocal selections by Mary Pattie of the White Oaks Theatre Company, accompanied by Thomas Janusz, who is a member of the White Oaks Opera Company.

Tickets for the fashion show, which will begin at 5:30, are available from Auxiliary members and at shops in the Village.

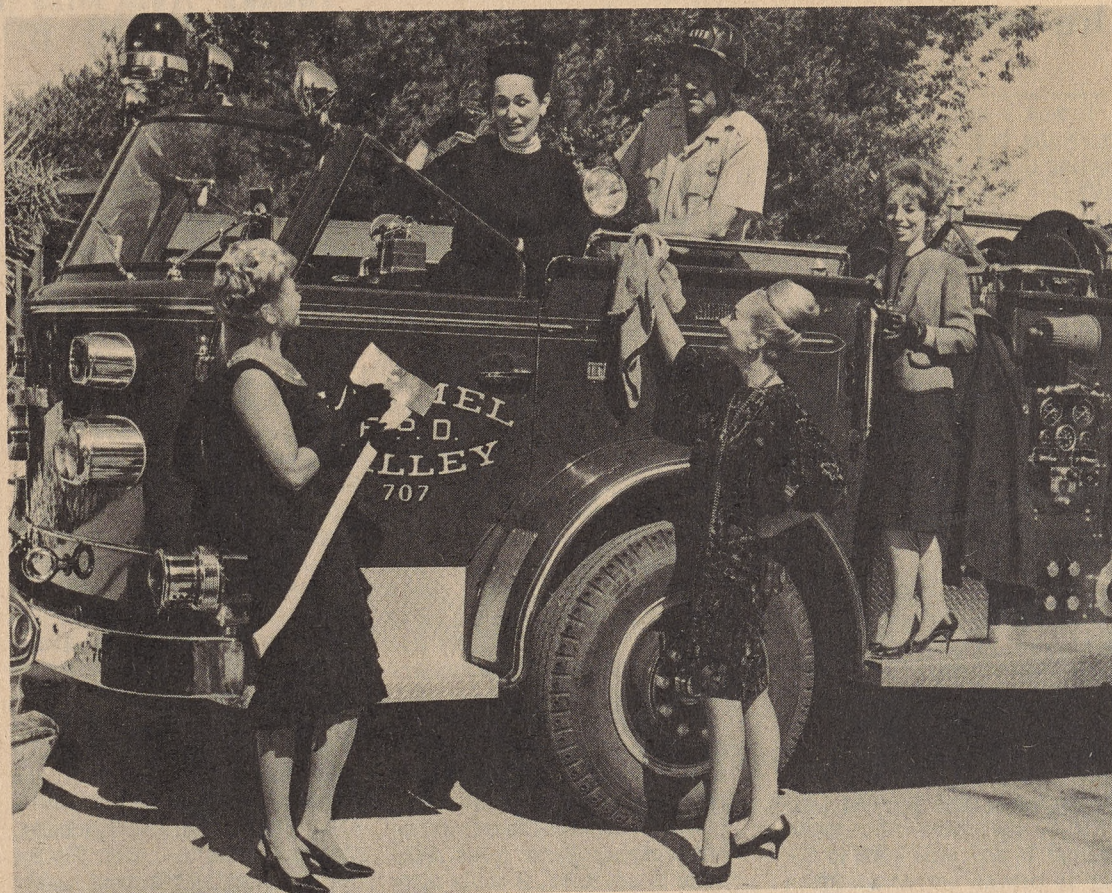

CV items to Zoning Board

Monterey County Board of Zoning Adjustment has several Carmel Valley items on its September 10 agenda.

At 9:55 Green Meadows, Inc. will ask for a reduction in front and rear yard setback requirements.

A use permit hearing for N.J. Raines is set for 10:10 a.m. for a multiple dwelling in a C-1 district, and at 10:30 Monterey Peninsula Associates will request a permit for subdivision signs.

Is this any way to 'man' a fire department?

ALL KINDS OF HELP is given to the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department by members of their Ladies Auxiliary. Models for the annual Cocktail Capers fashion show which will be presented September 11 for the benefit of the Fire Department, turn out to assist fireman Don Laird. Ellen Waters (center), who will commentate the show, offers a toast which

Journalism class set

Carmel High School to publish newspaper

Carmel High School will have its own newspaper this fall.

It will be a regular four-page tabloid newspaper with photographs, according to the High School's new journalism instructor, Wally LeValley.

The newspaper will be produced by a journalism class, which LeValley will inaugurate. "We already have about 20 signed up for the class," he said, "and it will be kept to about 25."

Because journalism will be a new subject at the high school, the class will be made up of beginners, mostly B-average students, he said. He expects about two thirds of the students to be interested in the editorial side and a third in the business end.

A student photographer, and artist will round out the staff. Local merchants will be offered the opportunity to advertise in the new Carmel High paper.

LeValley explained that journalism will be offered as a professional course in writing techniques, in the responsibility and nature of the press. The other mass media will also be touched on.

The class can be taken for one semester or for a year or more. LeValley will also teach three English classes.

He taught journalism at Lincoln High School in San Francisco in 1964. A graduate of San Francisco State College in 1963, he also attended the University of Washington.

LeValley served three years in the Marines in communications. Born in Bakersfield, he grew up in Washington state and Aptos in Santa Cruz county.

Hudson huddle slated Sept. 16

The next meeting of Valley representatives with Tom Hudson (Hudson Huddle) is scheduled for Thursday, September 16, 12 noon, at C.V. Golf and Country Club.

The disclosure of plans for a sewage disposal plant at Rancho Fiesta Retirement community adjacent to Carmel River has prompted several Valley residents to request discussion of sanitation plans and sewage problems at this meeting.

Mr. Hudson recently said he would have Ed Munson of the County Health Department present the Valley sanitary Master Plan, but when contacted yesterday, Mr. Munson said that as yet he had not been asked, although he would be happy to attend if requested.

CV Manor adds to medical building

An addition to the medical facilities of Carmel Valley Manor was heralded with groundbreaking ceremonies last week. Peter Kutchera and his wife, Sophia, manned the pneumatic hammer and pick to start the proceedings.

Completion of the addition is anticipated in 110 working days, according to Geyer Construction Company who will build the wing. The new portion of the medical building was designed by Cranston and Elston and will add 33 new beds to the accommodations, which presently handles fifteen bed patients.

CVPOA quarterly meeting Thursday

The quarterly meeting of the CVPOA will be held tomorrow, September 9 at 8 p.m. in the Community Center.

DR. GEORGE THORNGATE anesthetizes the ground for Peter Kutchera and his wife, Sophia, as they prepare to break the ground, painlessly, for the new medical wing at Carmel Valley Manor. Nurse Irma Brandt stands by to assist in the operation if necessary. While thanking Mr. Kutchera for his generous donation of $115,000 for construction of the addition, Dr.

William Pratt, (right) director of the Manor, presented the hat designating him as "Honorary Superintendent" of the project. (Photo by Ginnie Drew)

The marathon Humble hearing

It was a long marathon, but from the beginning one had the feeling that it was all sewed up. Although there was suspicion during the 13-hour hearing before the board of supervisors on the Humble Oil refinery at Moss Landing that the decision had already been reached, one could only hope that one of the supervisors who probably would vote "yes" might be persuaded by the arguments of the opposition. And the arguments against locating a refinery at the mouth of the Salinas Valley were logical, humanitarian and backed by fact and research.

The two supervisors who voted against the Humble Oil use permit probed, asked questions and requested verification of facts. The three who voted for the refinery sat with little change of expression and...we must suppose...listened. Although how anyone could LISTEN to the many who spoke against it and still vote in favor is beyond our comprehension.

This trend of reversing the recommendations of one body of government - the planning commission in this case - by another seems to occur more and more often. We have our democratic form of checks and balances, but it is of little merit if each agency acts independently without any consideration for the planning of others.

In this case, it would seem that little other than the immediate dollar was considered. The die was cast and event testimony by the Almighty would not have changed the outcome.

No one can fortell exactly what damage will be done by the establishment of one refinery at Moss Landing, or by the subsequent industries which will obviously follow. Since there has been no refinery there to date, it will obviously add something besides tax dollars to the Salinas Valley.

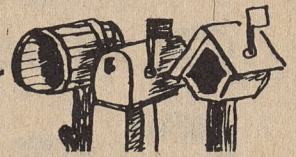

As the dollars of industry flow into Monterey County, the flow of agricultural products must of necessity decrease. When the supply of food from one of the richest farm areas in the state is cut down, it would seem apparent that costs will rise.

Time will tell who has out-guessed who!

Letters to the Editor

'Thanks' from Miss Hoehn at Peace Corps Center

To the Editor:

To all of you, a most sincere THANK YOU! Never could I have imagined a more wonderful two-year teaching experience than I had in your wondrous Valley with so many delightful fourth-grade students at Tularcitos School! It was truly wondrous, a rich learning experience for me in every way possible -- to you do I want to express my deepest thanks!

For it was through the meaningful teaching-learning experiences I had with you and your children that I came again to realize what my next service would have to be..... and it was thus that I am entering Peace Corps training this very next week. Doubtless, I am going because I really do want to -- but I also hope that many of you will go along with me, in spirit and thought, and occasionally, through letters. For I'll not forget you, but I'll most surely be taking with me the grand enthusiasm and spirit I gained through these two meaningful years.

Carmel Valley is such a uniquely beautiful area every sloping outline of those beautiful green-brown hills is etched firmly in my mind ... someday I hope more of you will be inspired to write legends about those hills, that was something I always hoped someone would do! (One of those things I hoped "next year's class" could do...but next year just won't be at Tularcitos this time!)

All of you are such caring people, some of you almost unbelievably so -- keep up that wonderful interest! Oh, how it does count...help...contribute! Such to me is the spirit we should have as American citizens, the spirit that always remembers American does indeed end in... "I CAN!" (And thanks to all of you who helped me to remember that and apply it now!)

Yes, I can...you can...we all CAN work for this wondrous world about us, each doing all he or she is able to do with every wondrous day! It all reminds me of what Robert Frost wrote in his poem, "Two Tramps in Mud Time," these lines would I use in saying "Aloha" now to you..... "But yield who will to their separation,

My object in living is to unite My avocation and my vocation As my two eyes make me in sight.

Only where love and need are one, And the work is lay for mortal stakes, Is the deed ever really done For Heaven and the future's sakes."

Again...thank you, for so very much!

Most Sincerely,
(remembering you always!)

EDITOR--To those of us who use the Community Pool, the work which is well under way; that of the construction of the dressing room facility, was indeed a welcome sight.

The members of the Community Center Board feel confident that the $4,000 gift from the Crosby Youth Fund will be matched (perhaps even topped!) by the generosity of Valley residents to complete this much needed addition.

If those of us who have not yet sent checks for Community Center memberships and/or contributions will do so this week, we would uphold the confidence of the Board and make their job much easier.

Carmel High night school to start

Classes for the first semester of the Carmel Adult School will begin Monday, September 13, according to Charles L. Dawson, Adult School principal.

Courses in fine arts, business, citizenship, crafts, driver education, foreign languages, homemaking, industrial arts, literature and reading, and music are being offered in a variety of locations in the school district: Bay School, Carmel Valley Manor, Carmel High School, Carmelo School, Sunset and Carmel Middle School.

A fee of $5.00 is charged to enroll in the evening school division and there is no limit to the number of classes an individual may take. No tuition fee will be charged for classes in "Citizenship" and "English for New Americans."

One new course offered this year is "Children's Literature." Martha Bruggeman, owner of The Magic Fishbone, a Carmel children's bookstore, will teach the new course. She has contributed much of her time to Carmel and other school districts on field trips to classrooms and is a well known expert in children's literature. Recently she was featured in an article on children's literature in The Christian Science Monitor. The class will meet at Carmel High School every Thursday night, 7:30 to 9:30.

Classes will not be started unless there are 15 or more registrants, and an average of 15 must be maintained. Registration is at the first class session. Classes end January 28, 1966. For further information call the Carmel Adult School, 624-1714.

Kiwanis hears talk

Carmel Sanitary District President explains opposition to water bonds

"The coming Water District bond issue will put the people of this community in debt probably for the rest of their lifetime," declared Hal Arnot of the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club last week Tuesday noon.

Citing pyramiding taxes on a friend's property in Contra Costa county, the speaker, a Carmel resident, warned against voting in "another self-perpetuating district."

"How far can we go before we kill the goose that laid the golden egg?" he asked.

Arnot, who is president of the Carmel Sanitary District, cited eight reasons why he is opposed to the $17,500,000 bond issue scheduled Sept. 28 of the Monterey Municipal Water Dist. as follows:

"1. I am opposed to public ownership of a private enterprise that is performing a public service satisfactorily and in the best interest of the people.

"2. I am opposed to any type of 'district' if it can possibly be avoided. It is a completely independent political agency with taxing power and no public supervision.

"3. I am opposed to the use of 'public domain' procedures to confiscate private property when complete discretion as to the 'public necessity (?)' is made by an unqualified district board.

"4. I am opposed to turning the plant and equipment necessary to insure our present and future supply of water over to the authority of a district board who have done nothing in inspire public confidence.

"5. I am opposed to giving up a fixed cost for water under control of the Public Utility Commission for a cost-plus arrangement under district control.

"6. I am opposed to the utter disregard for economy in the effort to put this water district plan in operation.

"7. I am opposed to putting this community into debt for the next 35 years, or more just on the theory that it will re-distribute the tax load.

"8. I am opposed to the unnecessary expenditures of public funds that will increase an already rapidly rising tax burden of the people of this area."

Arnot said that a water district has almost unlimited powers that extend beyond just the cost of water. "It can borrow money, sell bonds, create assessment districts for fire, police or recreation purposes, tax the property owners, hire lawyers, engineers, consultants, get salaries, etc."

PUBLIC APATHY

He warned that districts, such as the Water District, "are completely autonomous in their operations and create very little public interest in their activities." As an example of the lack of public interest, he pointed out that nobody opposed him in the last Carmel Sanitary District election, which meant that no election was held and he succeeded himself automatically.

"How do you get people interested in a matter as important and far-reaching as this Water Bond election?" he asked. He said he didn't know, and that public apathy is a serious danger in such decisions of major importance.

He added that only one of the present Water Bond members, Carmel Valley's Irene Baldwin, is not coming up for election next spring, which means that a practically new and inexperienced board could be elected to manage the affairs of the District.

"When the bond proposal is defeated--and if the voters can be interested in casting a ballot, I know it will be--there is no use of this Water District board continuing to spend money," Arnot said. He indicated the strategy of the opposing Taxpayers Association would be to elect a board which would dissolve the district, which it could do if there are no bonds.

The speaker urged greater support for the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association, which is leading the fight against the water bonds.

"This organization will act as the taxpayers watchdog and will try to be helpful as well as critical in their dealings with public officials," he said. "It will, however, represent the people as a whole--and no special group.

"Primarily, the Taxpayers Association will make every effort to curb the steady and ever-rising property taxes which have already become a serious local and national problem."

Judge tells Lions problems of law

Judge Eugene Harrah, of Municipal Court, Monterey, was guest speaker at the Carmel Valley Lions Club last Wednesday night at the Plaza Linda restaurant.

Speaking with much concern about the attitude toward law and the trend to violate the law, Judge Harrah pointed out that there is real danger in today's lack of respect for law and lawmen as "people justify and rationalize what is wrong." He cited examples, particularly from traffic court cases where many individuals are vehement in court and in essence think traffic laws should be personally designed for them.

The drunk driving problem, trespassing laws, and the responsibility of jury duty were other problems discussed by Judge Harrah. Prior to his appointment by Governor Brown, the Judge was an attorney for 28 years.

Some 30 members of the Carmel Valley Lions Club heard Judge Harrah speak following a dinner of trout contributed by Lions Bud Hall and Charles Gansel.

Report cites good and bad examples of Carmel Valley subdivision planning

The slope map method, the report says, offers advantages of being a conventional method and of being a map that is very often made as a matter of routine by engineers and developers in the process of analyzing land. "Therefore, this would not necessarily be an extra burden on the developer."

"The slope map method has the main disadvantage of being difficult to administer because of the variety possible in the delineation of slope areas."

CONTOUR METHOD

The consultant says that "the contour measurement method offers the advantage of being easy to administer. Major disadvantage seems to be the lack of accuracy when measuring extremes in terrain."

The sample dot method, according to the report, needs refinement. "However, it appears that it offers a number of advantages including: relative ease of application, consistent results when applied by different people and a high level of accuracy. Disadvantages include probably necessity of supplying prints with random dot patterns which developers can superimpose on their land, or the necessity of having these applied to a map by the planning department. A simple template could be made from which these points could easily be transferred."

The report cites the CV Master Plan as justification for slope-development planning and lists development-problems in steep areas. It points out that the Master Plan emphasizes the importance of preserving natural terrain and vegetation rises in hillside developments.

GOOD EXAMPLE

The report also analyzes four local developments and proposed developments. Rancho Rio Vista is praised as a development "carefully related to the site with the result that scarring has been minimized and good building sites provided. Lot sizes vary as necessary in order to ensure good building sites."

Its unit No. 2 averages 1.7 acres gross per site and Unit

No. 3, 1.8 acres of relatively steady slope with two major valleys, mostly from 10 to 30% grade.

Two other subdivisions, on which tentative maps have been filed, Rancho Los Tulares and Los Laureles Hills, were not judged so kindly by the planning firm.

Topography of Los Tulares is "quite rugged, mostly in 30-50% slope category;" 119 lots are included in the 197 gross acres.

The comparatively steep slope produces this evaluation by the planning consultant: "This subdivision poses a number of serious grading problems. The main access road, which has already been graded, involves some very large cuts and fills. In addition, access onto some of the lots will be difficult because of the need for graded approaches."

Los Laureles Hills subdivision, on the north side of Carmel Valley between Miramonte and Los Laureles Roads, includes 58 lots on 67.30 total acres, averaging about 30% grade, the report says.

"This subdivision is adjusted to the terrain rather well,"

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second part of the preliminary "Slope-Density Study of Carmel Valley," presented to the County Planning Commission by William Spangle & Associates, city and regional planners of Menlo Park.

the report comments; "However, it may be difficult to develop driveways to some lots without considerable grading. There are no common open spaces provided to serve these lots."

OPPENHEIMER RANCH

The report comments on the general plan on file for the 20,000-acre Oppenheimer ranch just to the south of Carmel Valley, which proposes "5,500 to 11,000 households" or lot sizes from 1.8 acres to 3.6 acres gross.

Its evaluation comments: "The plan is too general to permit evaluation of impact on terrain; however, the general density range and the proposals for clustering dwelling units would help minimize the disturbance to the natural environment."

For comparison, the report outlines several hill developments in the Portola Valley area of San Mateo county.

The consultant points out that Carmel Valley developments have generally tended towards larger lots on steeper grades, although the cluster concept would permit higher density.

WHY WE OPPOSE THE WATER BONDS

(Special Election September 28th)

Our organization whose membership numbers over 2500 citizens of the Monterey Peninsula is against the $17,500,000 water bond proposal of the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District to take over the properties of the California Water and Telephone Company and the East Monterey Water Service for the following reasons:

- 1 If the bonds are approved we would have to make up the $250,000 per year in taxes now paid by the local water company from which the district, a political agency, is exempt. (This amounts to about 13 cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation or more than twice the county tax increase of this last year.)
- 2 The District has already borrowed $750,000 and spent $700,000 without direct authorization of the taxpayers. This amount has been "dumped" into the $17,500,000 bond issue proposal for your approval after it has been spent.
- 3 This points up the broad, almost unlimited, power of the District to commit your money and tax you when, as and if they please.
- 4 We are asked to transfer control of our vital water supply from a well-run, investor-owned company with 83 years of local experience in the water business to a political agency with no background in water operations.
- 5 We would not have a fixed charge for water, controlled and approved by the California State Public Utilities Commission. The District could increase rates overnight merely by a resolution of its Board (four out of five of whom have been appointed). As it is now, rates can be increased only after lengthy public hearings at which all interested parties are heard.

CV Garden Association plans picnic-meeting for Sept. 11

Carmel Valley Garden Association has planned a noon picnic for their first fall meeting on Saturday, September 11, at the Trail and Saddle Club grounds on Garzas Road. Each family is asked to bring his own food and utensils, but coffee will be provided. In the past some groups have joined and made plans for lunches on a pot-luck basis. Garden Club members will provide the program by bringing a favorite potted plant, bouquet or specimen branch and then be prepared to discuss it briefly.

During the summer, the club combined meetings and travelled to the Sunset Magazine gardens in Menlo Park. The group made the trip by bus and lunched at Allied Arts before making the garden tour.

There are two other wilderness Schools, one at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, and another in the Sierras. The one at Catalina Island beckoned to Kay because of her interest in oceanography.

Wendy Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lambert, celebrated her fourth birthday on August 21 with a Red Riding Hood party. The cake was decorated like Little Red Riding Hood's basket and topped with a big red bow on the handle. Party guests, Lisa Bruno, Patty Miller, Amy Stewart and sister, Becky, all had Red Riding Hood baskets and Wendy wore a red dress with candy stripe sleeves to carry out the motif.

Mrs. Betty O'Neal just returned from a month's vacation in Laguna Beach. While there, she and the children, Mollie and John, enjoyed the sun and surf and visiting with old friends from Southern California. Betty and her daughter arrived home early since Mollie was flower girl for Gay Antoncich's wedding on Saturday. John stayed in Laguna with the Kvenilds who came down to spend the last week of August. He and Beau Kvenild are squeezing the last possible enjoyment out of the surfing before school starts.

Mrs. Belva Sanford of Ford Road is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Don Slater in Tacoma, Washington and helping with her new grand daughter, Shandra Sanford Slater who arrived on Tuesday, August 24, at 9:15 p.m. Mr. Slater, who is with a boat building company, was somewhere at sea delivering a boat through the Canal to the East Coast when his daughter was born.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Talbott recently entertained a group of buyers and owners of menswear shops featuring natural shoulder lines from Denver West. Twenty-five members of a seminar which headquartered at the Mark Thomas Inn toured the Talbott factory in the afternoon and then adjourned to the Talbott home in La Rancheria.

Confusion of names

Clarification offered by chairman of Committee for Formation of Arts Council

A statement of clarification was issued this week by L. W. Klene, chairman of the Committee for the Formation of An Arts Council for Carmel. A former Carmel Valley resident, he now lives in Carmel Highlands.

His statement to the Outlook follows:

It has come to my attention that one of the principal leaders of the opposition to the proposal of Arts Inc. to build a Community Center on the Sunset School site, has publicly stated that the writer is president of Arts Inc.

I am not a member of that organization. I am chairman of the committee for the formation of an Arts Council. Possibly the confusion is due to somewhat similar names of two entirely separate organizations, namely, Arts Inc., whose president is Mr. Malcolm Millard and Arts Council.

Local Arts Councils are nation wide and have a national organization, incidentally started by a member of the Junior League of New York and later developed by Mrs. Helen Thompson now with the American Symphony League.

However, we are more than gratified to have Arts Inc. propose to finance, build and maintain an Arts Center on the Sunset site.

Some eight or nine music and arts groups of the Monterey Peninsula were asked to join in forming an Arts Council. Other arts groups or allied organizations will be invited to become members of the Arts Council.

While the original group forming the Arts Council generally are partial to the Sunset site for Arts Inc. proposed development, they recognize certain advantages of several other available sites, should Arts Inc. be unable to arrive at a satisfactory contract with the City of Carmel for the use of the Sunset site.

It is beyond my comprehension why there should be any opposition to the proposal of Arts Inc. to build and finally turn over to the City of Carmel a five million dollar development of the Sunset site.

I want to commend the public spirited members of Arts Inc.

New teachers for Carmel Unified School District gather for picture

All Saints' Episcopal churchwomen to begin season with luncheon

Water bonds topic at Business Assn.

Pro and con speakers on the coming water-bond vote will be featured at the quarterly meeting of Carmel Business Association Thursday, Sept. 16 at Mission Ranch. Cocktails will be at 6:30 and dinner at 7:30.

for their magnificent proposal to furnish an Arts Center for the Peninsula.

Their approach to the project is very similar to the manner in which the now greatly appreciated Community Hospital was built. The plan to build a needed facility at Sunset, not in any sense to "use" the property for any profit or personal gain whatsoever.

The Churchwomen of All Saint's Episcopal Church, Carmel, will hold their first meeting of the 1965 fall season Tuesday September 14th in the Church Parish Hall at Lincoln and 9th in Carmel. This will be a bridge luncheon.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. The general meeting will begin at 11 a.m., followed by the lunch and then a bridge party.

Members of the Churchwomen's board will put on the luncheon.

Officers for the 1965-1966 board are President, Mrs. Russell Padgham, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Gale Jacobsen, Finance Chairman, Miss Elizabeth White, Program Chairman, Mrs. Fred Terman.

A babysitter will be available for the Tuesday bridge luncheon meeting.

Helen Dooley oil painting places at the State Fair

Helen Dooley, owner of Helen Dooley Art Gallery in Carmel, won an honorable mention in modern oils at the state fair. Her entry, "How Green the Valley," is one of a series of oils inspired by the scenery along the Salinas-Monterey highway.

For 16 years a Professor of Art at the University of Pacific in Stockton, Helen Dooley is now on leave of absence. A week ago she was a judge at the Lodi Grape Festival Art Show.

CV's John Woolfenden to teach PR evening class at MPC

A course in public relations has been added to the fall evening offerings at Monterey Peninsula College, according to an announcement made today by Dr. Keith Merrill, MPC evening dean.

The three-unit course will be instructed by John Woolfenden of Carmel Valley, a staff member of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, Monday

An even hundred lower division academic and vocational college courses will be taught by over 80 instructors during the Fall, 1965, evening division semester, September 13 to January 28 at Monterey Peninsula College, Dr. Keith Merrill, MPC evening dean, announced this week.

In addition, San Jose State College will offer four and the University of California at Berkeley two upper division courses on the local campus. Lower division offerings will include classes in the areas of anthropology, art, aviation, business, business date processing, chemistry, construction technology, dental assisting, distributive education, economics, electronics, engineering, English, fire science technology, foreign languages (Arabic, French, German, Japanese, Russian and Spanish), geography, geology, health, history, home economics, hotel-motel and restaurant management, journalism, landscape gardening and ornamental horticulture, mathematics, medical assisting, music, oceanography, philosophy, photography, police science, psychology, public service (conference leading), sociology, speech, and zoology.

Generally, classes will meet in the evening, with the exception of a "twilight" class in elementary French which will meet in the late afternoon to accommodate military dependents and others for whom the timing is necessary.

Credits earned at MPC are transferable to colleges and universities generally. Students working toward degrees, who are urged to select courses with great care, may consult with an evening division counselor who is on duty two nights a week. Appointments may be made by calling 375-9821.

Registration has been scheduled for Friday, Sept. 10, 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturday, Sept. 11, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., in the Armory on campus. Students must register before instruction begins on Monday, September 13.

Extension courses, for which various fees are charged, will include: English x164 (Contemporary European Novels), Political Science x180, Psychology x154 (Social Psychology), and Social Science x101 (Topics in the Geography, History and Politics in Modern China) from San Jose State College; and Tax planning for Real Estate Transactions and Case Studies in Real Estate Appraisal (Rural) from the University of California. The two business courses will meet at MPC and Hartnell College.

Registration for more than 100 evening courses is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 10, 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturday, Sept. 11, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Armory on campus.

Woolfenden, widely known for his work as publicist for the film, "Lawrence of Arabia," taught the MPC course several years ago, after which Shirlee Stoddard, the college's public information officer, was instructor for four years. The course has not been offered for the past year.

Registration for more than 100 evening courses is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 10, 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturday, Sept. 11, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Armory on campus.

Great show tunes and the stories behind them, tunes sung and stories told by Broadway and international star Dossie Hollingsworth, will afford Monterey Peninsula live-theatre buffs unique fare at The STUDIO THEATRE RESTAURANT in Carmel these next two weekends.

Opening September 10, the shows are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights; curtain time is 8:30.

Winding up summer vacation after a season-long success in the STUDIO's production of Cole Porter's, "ANYTHING GOES," Miss Hollingsworth will perform in her vast repertoire of musical comedy songs. The stories are of situations in which the songs were written, anecdotes of their composers and arrangers -- lore of the theatre's inside told by an insider -- told in an intimate setting in informal style by a talented, highly skilled and sensitive artist; the songs have been sung by Miss Hollingsworth from New York ("Gentlemen Prefer Blondes") to Australia ("High Spirits").

The title "Dossie Sings Music a la Carte" derives from the star's exciting impromptu song sessions after hours with friends and fellow performers. Her work in such productions as "Gypsy," "Kismet," "Silk Stockings," "Can-Can," "Bells are Ringing," and a long list of other hit shows has produced a fascinating backlog of tunes and tales.

Miss Hollingsworth arrived here directly from Melbourne and will leave for New York commitments late this month.

Landscape artist to give program at Hacienda Carmel

Helen Gopen Oehler, noted American landscape artist, will present a program of Kodachrome slides with commentary at Hacienda Carmel on Sunday, September 12, at 8 p.m. The program will cover her recent travels through 13 countries south of our border from Guatemala to Argentina. Mrs. Oehler has visited 100 countries sketching and studying the peoples and landscapes.

She maintains a studio in one of the apartments at Hacienda Carmel where she is a resident.

Outlook LEISURE TIMES

Children's paintings on exhibit at AFA Gallery

An exhibition of children's paintings from workshops conducted by the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts and the Lyceum is on display in the AFA gallery in Carmel on Lincoln.

Under the auspices of the AFA, a series of 10 workshops for children aged 6 to 12, were conducted by Jay Hannah, artist and member of the Carmel Art Association. The children were enrolled by their parents in response to an AFA notice of the availability of the workshops. The young artists are all residents of the Peninsula, including the Carmel Valley. The best example of their work were selected for the exhibition.

Virginia Blair Hannon, graduate of the Art Institute of Chicago and former gallery director, taught the children of the Lyceum group. These children, nominated by their teachers to participate in the workshops, ranged in age from 13 to 17. Many have international backgrounds.

The Lyceum, a lay organization was started by a group of U.S. Naval Postgraduate professors in 1960 who believed our youth is one of the nation's greatest assets. The organization offers seminars, conferences, workshops and tutorials in the arts, sciences and humanities. Participants are nominated by school faculties and administrators who work with the Lyceum program committee to determine eligibility.

Over 1500 students have participated since the program began. The children are residents of the Peninsula and come from Marina in the north to Big Sur in the south and the Carmel Valley. The paintings hanging in the exhibition were chosen as the most representative examples.

The show will continue through September 30 and may be seen on weekdays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 2 to 5 p.m.

Rummage sale by Swim Club

Cypress Swim Club mothers will hold a rummage sale for the benefit of the group on Saturday, October 2, at the Seaside Grange Hall from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All kinds of resalable merchandise is needed and large furniture items can be handled as well as clothing, toys and household goods.

Arrangements for pickup may be made by calling 659-4265 or 659-2570.

'Photography 65' exhibit slated at MP College

"Photography 65," a grouping of 34 photographic prints selected from 275 submitted by 18 California Junior colleges, will be on exhibition at Monterey Peninsula College from Monday, September 13, through Friday, September 24, in the college library.

Twelve of the prints were submitted by MPC students, who won first prizes and one honorable mention. The two first places went to Regina Hacks of Carmel and Ed Whitworth of Marina. Joe Martinez of Fort Ord won honorable mention. Eileen Dufur of Carmel Valley, Bill Twibel and Barbara Litts of Carmel are among the local exhibitors.

Judges for the show were local photographers Ansel Adams and Wynn Bullock and William LaRue of New York.

Hot lunches to be provided at Carmel High School, Middle School

Hot lunches will be provided at both Carmel High School and the Middle School but under a different system than in the past. While vending machines will again be used, all hot food and sandwiches will be prepared at the high school kitchen and then transferred to machines leased from the Canteen Company. The contract with Allied Vending, which provided and prepared the food last year has been terminated.

Canteen Company, which operates nationally, has installed vending machines at the high school for the sale of packaged items such as potato chips. These foods will also be sold at the snack bar of the Middle School.

All food except such packaged edibles will be prepared by school district employees, according to regulations recently set up by the CUSD board of education.

Cafeterias and food preparation areas have been thoroughly cleaned and the kitchen and cafeteria at the high school have been painted and refurbished during the summer. An open area near the kitchen door which came under fire as unsanitary in last year's investigations, has been enclosed.

All Saints Episcopal Church scene of wedding of Karen Dawson and Russell Wolter

All Saints Episcopal Church in Carmel was the setting for the wedding of Karen Theron Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dawson of Carmel Valley, and Russell Tracy Wolter, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Luis S. Wolter. The 2 p.m. ceremony was held on August 28 with Father David Hill officiating.

Miss Dawson, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional floor length wedding gown of silk organza with an illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white carnations centered with a white orchid. The yellow and white theme was also carried out in the altar flowers of pom-pom marigolds and white gladioli.

Christine Dawson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. Donald Luce, Mrs. Dale Dawson, Mrs. Charles Dawson and Miss Sandra Lucido.

Luis Wolter II acted as his brother's best man and his ushers were Darryl and Charles Dawson, brothers of the bride, Donald Luce, and O. K. King.

The new Mrs. Wolter went through the Carmel Schools and MPC and then attended California Poly Tech at San Luis Obispo. The groom graduated from Monterey High School and also attended MPC.

After a honeymoon trip to Grand Canyon, the young couple will make their home in Carmel Valley.

WEDDING RITES were pronounced for Karen Theron Dawson and Russell Tracy Wolter of Carmel Valley Aug. 28 in All Saints' Episcopal Church, Carmel.

Cypress Swim Club
tonight, tomorrow

A reminder has been issued to all girls who are interested in tryouts for the Cypress Swim Club to be at the Carmel Valley Community pool this evening or tomorrow (Thursday, September 9) evening between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Those who are interested should remember to bring hats and wear their swimming garb since bath house facilities are not yet completed.

Parents of applicants who are accepted will be asked to attend an orientation meeting to discuss requirements and dues which cover the costs of costumes and AAU competition entries.

2 Great Books' groups to meet alternate Thursdays

Two Great Books' discussion groups, led by Dr. Karel Vit and Robert Rogers, will meet alternate weeks at Monterey Peninsula College during its fall, 1965 semester.

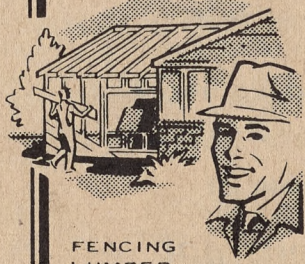

Open to persons participating for the first time, the first year group will meet every other Thursday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the faculty dining room, beginning September 16.

A fifth year group, open to all who have previously been discussion group members, will meet every other Thursday, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the faculty dining room, beginning September 23.

Participants, who must purchase bound volumes of the Great Books of the Western World selections at the college bookstore prior to joining the group, will register at the first meeting.

Housing needed for MPA foreign students

Housing for Monterey Peninsula College international and other non-resident students is urgently needed for the fall semester, MPC's housing office announced this week.

College officials are particularly interested in finding reasonably priced room-and-board situations in private homes, rooms with kitchen privileges and "the type of family for which a student might work for his or her room and board."

Miss Rosabelle Hamann, MPC foreign student advisor, stressed that "international students are interested in getting to know American families by living in their homes, and it is always interesting for the families to become acquainted with students from other countries, too."

She said she is also making up a list of "host" families who would be interested in entertaining foreign students.

Persons with housing to offer are urged to telephone the college business office, 375-9821, Ext. 311.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY BOB LAMBERT

Owner of Valley Appliance Sales & Service 659-4039.

This is the time of year towards the lush end of the summer when the housewife starts to think about remodeling the kitchen—replacing worn appliances and re-arranging her cupboard space to make things easier and more efficient for her. This is where a little trained help and advice will be very useful. The appliances in the home should be designed to fit the specific needs of the customer. The entire designing of the kitchen is the same way.

A housewife's kitchen should have the same design advantage and tools as her husband's workshop or place of business, because in effect, this is her trade, and should be treated as such. If she is a short woman the height to the top of the counters should be built accordingly. Top cupboards and storage space areas should be placed to compensate for her height. If she is left or right handed or heavy set, the size of her family, the type of cooking she does—all these things should be taken into consideration.

There are many things the husband should consider when the new kitchen is being designed. The location and type of venting, in particular, how much air do the fans take out of the house, the heat or cooling loads that will have to be compensated for, the proximity of the kitchen to rugs and drapes to cut down future expensive cleaning bills, and cooking odors lingering in the living area, the type of lighting, the kind of flooring for ease of cleaning, location of entrances and exits to guide the flow of traffic. A lot of these things were taken into account when the architect originally designed the home but if a house has changed hands several times the personality of the home gets lost in the shuffle.

If you are planning to live in your present home for a considerable length of time, the $3000 to $5000 investment is more than compensated for by the enjoyment and efficiency of operation you get out of a well designed kitchen.

--BOB

Bucket seats? On the Scout?

There are probably thousands of farmers, construction men and store owners who like the SCOUT because it's a tough, powerful utility vehicle that's easy on gas and goes anywhere.

But we hear from more and more people who bought a SCOUT for pure fun. Outdoor people... suburbanites... hunters and fishermen who don't want to stop going just because they've run out of road.

The sporty bucket seats (and the full width removable back seat) are for them.

And if you think that's getting too fancy for a utility vehicle, take a SCOUT on a pleasure cruise. You never had that much fun with a utility vehicle.

New classes for Community

Chapel school

Next Sunday, September 12, all children of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Church School will be promoted into their new classes and introduced to their new teachers.

The time is set for 9:45 with the church worship service at 11:00. Bibles will be presented to all children entering the fourth grade of the Junior Department.

The highlight of the Rally Day Program is a "Sermon from Science" film entitled "Time and Eternity," which explains the meaning of time and space through the "time microscope" and the "time compressor," illustrating how a trip through space at the speed of light would take only 12 hours space time, but everyone else on earth would be 18 years older. The film emphasizes the infinite God of time, space and eternity.

The younger classes, Nursery through Kindergarten, will meet in their own classrooms. Those children entering first through twelfth grades will meet in the multipurpose room.

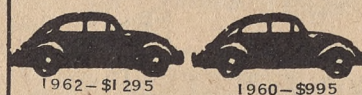

Among new teachers on the staff are Lt. and Mrs. Phillip J. Ridgley, Valley newcomers who live on Sage Road; Mrs. Cleve Harris. Others returning for another year of teaching are Mrs. Walter Mauzey; Mrs. Robert Lambert, four and five year olds; Christine Borregard, first grade; Mrs. Robert Staples, second grade; Wendy Hughes, third grade, and Mrs. Raymond Danielson, Superintendent of the Primary Department. Mrs. Don Johnson will superintend the Junior Department again and the Rev. Don Johnson will teach Senior Highs both at 9:45 and lead their discussion Sunday evenings at 7:00 p.m. Mrs. Ted Roberts, Mrs. Robert Hoover and Mrs. Mark Hatton will serve as substitute teachers.

Last trout for year planted here

This year's catchable-size trout planting program in California's central coastal area will come to an end this week, the Department of Fish and Game reports, with the planting of the Big Sur River in Monterey County.

UNDER THE OAKS AND AMONG THE CACTI

By MILDRED HATTAN

The vacation of the Paul Nielson family of Lower Circle was climaxed with the invited appearance of their six year old daughter, Debbie, in a performance of The Ice Follies. When the Nielsons with their other children, Evangeline, Ronald, and Timmy, arrived to be seated, a gentleman asked if Debbie would be afraid to take part in the William's family act. She was an excited and willing participant. During the show when the William's son, Robbie, fell into the audience it was Debbie's cue to ask for his autograph and to give him a kiss. After the show the Nielson children were given a tour backstage where they met a number of the stars. In this week's mail, Debbie rescued an autographed picture of her co-star, Robbie Williams.

Before the excitement in San Francisco, the Nielsons had visited Lake Tahoe, Carson City, Virginia City, camped at Walker River, toured the ghost town of Bodie and camped at Pine Crest.

MAYFIELD VISITORS

Guests at the Laurel Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Mayfield have been Ed's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sutherland of St. Louis, Missouri. The Sutherlands have been dividing their visit between their Valley hosts and Mrs. Sutherland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Mayfield of Monterey.

NEW RESIDENTS

Welcome to a new Navy family on Via Contenta, Lt. and Mrs. Robert W. Porter. While Lt. Porter attends classes at the Naval Post Graduate School, the Porters with their children Laurl, 7 1/2, and Bobby, 6, will make their home in the former Eckert residence. This is the first trip to the West for the Porters who are natives of Connecticut and were stationed until recently at Norfolk, Virginia.

GUESTS FROM MILL VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Shelley St. Claire of Mill Valley were guests last week at the Robles Del Rio home of Joanne Sears.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. John Woods of Lower Circle have been entertaining June's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stewart of West Covina, California.

BILLIE MANS' GUESTS

Major (Army ret.) Billie Mans entertained friends from Los Alamos, New Mexico last week at her home on Calle de La Paloma. Mr. and Mrs. George Gregory Moen arrived with their children, George Jr., Mary Jeannine, and small son, "Bronco", a name which he chose for himself! Billie is looking forward to returning their visit in the fall, where

Mr. Moen is associated with the Atomic Energy Commission at Los Alamos.

YOUNG ANGLER

Richard Monthei will be returning to his home in Vallejo this week in time to begin third grade classes after a Valley vacation with his grandmother, Mrs. Stella Miller of River Road. Richard, an avid fisherman, caught a good sized bass while fishing with his uncle, Pete Danielson. The fish, according to Richard, was the best he had ever tasted.

CONLANS AT HOME

Mr. and Mrs. William Conlan and sons have returned to their home on Village Drive. The Conlans were at Lake Tahoe's North Shore during some of the worst weather recorded since 1950 so they left the storm area and completed their vacation with friends in Fresno.

NEW SIGN IS A WORK OF ART

Valley residence and tourists alike have been admiring the handsome sign erected recently which marks the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Trivette and Mr.

and Mrs. Brenden Seaborn on West Carmel Valley Road. Cast in bronze by Carmel artist, Beth Garcia, the model for the sign was a Shetland Stallion, "Duke Cream-Cup" formerly owned by the Trivettes. Mrs. Garcia at one time sketched a large number of the Trivettes livestock to use in both wax casting for jewelry and bronze casting for her statues. Fairgoers will remember her award winning entries of a small horse scratching his ear and a tiny possum with its young. The beautiful sign was presented to the Trivettes in appreciation by Mrs. Garcia.

Other signs to appear in the last few months is "La Pradera" which aptly describes the serenity of "the meadow" in front of the Paul Haberfeld home and the humorous touch of "Tooth-Acres" at the new home of Dr. and Mrs. Roderick McArthur.

BUSICKS GO CAMPING

A campsite accessibly only by boat was the choice of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Busick and family of River Road for their vacation. The Busicks fished, water skied and rested while camped at Trinity Lake, located north of Redding.

MRS. MC KIERNON

A speedy recovery to Mrs. Thomas McKiernon, Vista Del

Rio, who underwent surgery recently at the Veteran's Hospital in Long Beach. Notes may reach her addressed to C-1 at the hospital.

WEYGER WINS

Valley sculptor, Alexander Weygers won a second place award and $250 on his entry "Ondine," a work of sculpture in marble in the California State Fair competition. Named with five other Monterey County and artists as winners, their work will be exhibited during the 12 day run of the fair beginning September 1.

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Pryer attended a family reunion and wedding last week in Bakersfield. While the Pryer children remained with their maternal grandparents, Ruth and Rex were able to spend four days in Los Angeles where they visited old law school friends and attended a big league ball game between the Angels and the Tigers.

Arana residence damaged in fire

The Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department was called to the residence of Dr. Edward Arana, Calle de Quin Sabe, August 26 at 2:04 P.M. Estimated damage of $1500 was done to the living room of the Arana home when a candle lit by a child touched off the drapes and the wall to wall carpeting. Three units and 7 volunteer firemen responded to the alarm.

Lewis boy injured in fall from bike

Robert Lewis fell from his bicycle on the Robles bridge and was taken to the fire station by his mother Mrs. George Lewis and Mrs. Buford Clark. Firemen on duty administered emergency first aid and transported the child to the Community Hospital for further treatment. The accident occurred at 2:40 A.M. August 29.

Outstanding selection of classic films to be shown at MPC fall series

Six distinguished films, all open to the public without charge, will be screened during the Fall, 1965, semester at Monterey Peninsula College, it was announced today.

With two showings in the MPC Music Hall on each date-at 7 and 9 p.m.-the films are:

"The Passion of Joan of Arc" (France, 1928,) Carl Dreyer's classic treatment of the tale of the Maid of Orleans, just released with a musical sound track - Sept. 24; "The Big Deal on Madonna Street" (Italy, 1960), a classic Italian comedy starring Marcello Mastroianni, Toto, Claudia Cardinale and Vittorio Gassman - Oct. 22; "Baltic Express" (Poland, 1959), Nov. 12.

"The Old Dark House" (England, 1963), starring Robert Morley and Tom Poston, Dec. 3; "The Lower Depths" (Japan, 1957), Kurosawa's inimitable treatment of Gorky's play, with Toshiro Mifune, Dec. 17; and "Nana" (France, 1955), Christian-Jacque's film about Emile Zola's greedy, treacherous but always charming Parisienne of the Second Empire.

Selected short films will be shown with each feature.

Because the music hall is limited in capacity to 240 seats, free tickets will be issued on a reserved-seat basis. To secure seats, interested persons are asked to address requests to the MPC Evening Division at least one week prior to each showing, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope and specifying which showing - 7 or 9 p.m. is desired. Requests will be limited to two tickets.

Antoncich, Conroy exchange nuptial vows

Gay Antoncich Conroy and her new husband, John, happily walk down the aisle after their wedding in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, on August 28. At left, Gay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antoncich beam approval on the young couple as they pass.

Ellen Gay Antoncich was married to John Patrick Conroy in a simple early afternoon service at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Carmel Valley. Father James Voytko performed the August 28 ceremony.

Gay, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antoncich of Upper Circle, met John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Conroy of Alhambra, while attending University of California at Santa Barbara. She chose a wedding gown of white peau de soie in empire styling with a self train and with it wore a mantilla of Belgium lace.

Gay's maid of honor was her sister, Franci, and her bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael Antoncich Jr., Mrs. Lynn Richardson, Jerrime Cheshire, and Rosemary Conroy. Mollie O'Neal acted as junior bridesmaid. All wore empire dresses of soft forest green and carried sheaves of Tropicana roses.

John's brother, Donald Conroy, served as best man, his ushers were Fred Hokanson, Carl Merz, Gary Pickens, Herb Schmitt and Howard Sundberg.

A champagne reception was held at Carmel Valley Inn following the ceremony and it was there that the young couple was pelted with rice as they left for a honeymoon in La Jolla. They will make their home in Santa Barbara where both are employed.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. J. Frank Jones from Alhambra, Mrs. Marion Medalia from Seattle, Miss Patricia Kennedy of San Francisco and Mrs. Marion Mirkovich of North Hollywood.

Pool vandalism being investigated by Sheriff's Dept.

There hasn't been any repetition of the vandalism which occurred last week at the Valley pool, according to Mrs. Philip Cuny, water safety instructor. Hopefully, she said, "It looks like it was a one shot thing!"

The day after the completion of the summer recreation program, Mike Largent, Stewart Smith and Craig Tegtmeier arrived to open to pool for the Saturday afternoon swimmers. The sight that greeted their eyes was a pool full of a variety of things besides water. A garbage can, a cardboard box filled with nails, two wheelbarrows filled with dirt and tools from the adjacent bathhouse construction site and the canoe had been thrown in since the previous day.

The children assembling for an afternoon of swimming were told that they must wait in the bleachers until the debris was cleared from the pool. After about an hour and a half, the boys had removed the rust spots that had formed during the night from the nails and cleared away the dirt with the vacuum, in addition to hauling out all the other items.

Community Center president Bob Jones called the Sheriff's Department which is investigating the matter.

Community Center board member speaks at Women's Club meeting

Carmel Valley Women's Club held their first fall meeting at the Community Center on September 1. Mrs. Mark Field, who has accepted the position of president because of the resignation of Mrs. Paul Morenz, called the meeting to order. Mrs. William Lifson was announced as vice president, taking Mrs. Field's former post.

Plans were discussed for the club's November benefit, entitled "Holiday Food and Fancies," which will feature original holiday ideas developed by, and displayed in the home of, Virginia Stanton. Plans call for a luncheon at Carmel Golf and Country Club, followed by a lecture there by Mrs.

Stanton.

The speaker was Ginnie Drew, secretary of the Community Center board who discussed the overall plans of the center and what has been accomplished so far. Architect's drawings of the new bathhouse, landscape and site plans were displayed along with photographs taken at various functions to illustrate the increased use of the building, pool and grounds.

Tea was served following conclusion of the program.

The next Women's Club meeting will be held on October 6 at the Shutters Restaurant in Monterey. Mrs. Larry Cummings will be hostess for that day and Mrs. Joseph Blacow will be the chairman.

WHEN HIS SON WAS BORN

HE PLANTED A DOUGLAS FIR TREE

in the front yard of his little Carmel studio, and he painted "the Bonnie Fir" on the gate. Nearly 40 years have passed, and Douglas is a fine teacher in a distant state, and the fir is a handsome specimen secluded and sheltering the little cottage at the rear of the lot.

"Bonnie Fir" is only a few blocks from town and a few blocks from the sea - not much of a house by present-day standards; still, it's a very personable little weekender or rental cottage with its stone fireplace, two bedrooms, good bath, kitchen with stove and refrigerator, and it's VERY clean and in good condition. Why not see if you could use it now and perhaps build your permanent home on the premium lot later?

The price is only $19,900

CV Trail & Saddle Club annual horse show scores big success

Local riders and handlers took home 69 ribbons and trophies in the Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club tenth Annual Horse Show Sunday. These included two high point winners: Ursula Ballantyne, adult reserve, and Linda Maderak, in the 13-17 year old class.

Mrs. Ballantyne placed first in the registered half Arabian halter event; first in the registered half Arabian pleasure event and third in the key hole race for girls, 18 and over, as well as being named best western lady rider.

Linda was named best Western girl rider (17 and under) and placed in 12 other events in the 13-17 age group.

She placed first in Western pleasure; third in trail horse; second in English pleasure; 4th in junior horsemanship; 2nd in stock horse; 5th in halter class; 4th in registered Appaloosa halter; 3rd in registered quarter horse halter; 5th in barrel race; 5th in pole bending; 5th in open end barrel race and 5th in working pairs with Sharman Smith.

Twelve-year-old Susan McArthur placed 2nd in English pleasure, 12 and under; 4th in Western pleasure, 12 and under; 5th in registered purebred Arabian halter, and 2nd in purebred Arabian pleasure.

Susan Stanley placed first in the purebred Arabian pleasure event.

Other local winners included Andree Forzani who placed first in English pleasure, 18 and over, and was named Best Appearing Rider, English lady or man. Mrs. T. W. Smithson placed 3rd in the English pleasure event.

In the registered purebred Arabian halter class Dr. Douglas Chappell placed first and Dr. Peter H. C. Mutki, 3rd. Vic Silva placed second in the registered half Arabian halter class, and Roy Forzani came in third in the registered quarter horse pleasure class.

Among the small fry competing for honors was Carole Crockett who placed 1st in junior horsemanship, 8 and under; 4th in pole bending and 5th in the key hole race, 8 and under.

Patsy Porter placed 1st in trail horse, 13-17; Carol Hogan placed 1st in English pleasure and 4th in trail horse, 13-17; Mary Arnold was best appearing rider, English boy or girl, 17 and under, and 4th in English pleasure.

Anne Warmington came in second in the 13-17 year old Western pleasure event and 2nd in trail horse, 13-17; Cindy Young was 2nd in trail horse, 12 and under; 4th in pole bending, 9-12, and 3rd in registered Appaloosa pleasure.

Lynn Hodges was first in the registered quarter horse halter class. Cindy Currier was 3rd in English pleasure, 12 and under and Kevin Strathmeyer was 4th in that class.

Diana Young placed 5th in junior horsemanship, 8 and under, second in pole bending and third in key hole race, 8 and under.

Gina Halle was 1st in the pony halter class with Billie Ingram coming in 3rd and Ginger Dahle, 5th. Gina also placed 4th in the open end barrel race, for 12 and under and third in her age group in the key hole race.

Ann Springer was 3rd in pony hand and seat; Carol Winslow 4th in registered half Arabian halter; Sally McKenzie 5th in registered Appaloosa pleasure and 4th in the barrel race, 12 and under.

Sally also took 1st in key hole race in the 9-12 age group.

Lee Ann Dahle was 3rd in the registered half Arabian pleasure event. Her sister, Petie, came in 5th in pole bending, 9-12; 3rd in open end barrel race, 12 and under, and 2nd in the key hole race, 9-12.

Technology in a Space Age

Technology is a word that encompasses the great scientific advancements taking place in our lifetime. Each new achievement in this Space Age brings to mind the complexities and years of research that make up technology.

Technology is also an important part of bringing pure water into your home. The water supply at your command reflects much in technological advancement. The safety assured by purification practices, the engineering skill of trained waterworks men, the storage ability of reservoirs, the delivery services of pipelines and pumps, are all behind the scenes technology that assure you the good fortune of an abundant supply of good, safe water available twenty-four hours a day.
